Siegburg pottery market 07. and 08. July 2018

Dear Ladies and Gentleman, dear Ceramists,

It is done: the Siegburg pottery market is finally two days and we are looking forward to welcome you in Siegburg for a whole weekend in the coming year.

Since 2014 much has been done and developed here in Siegburg - around the topic of "ceramics": the ceramics are now very important in Siegburg and we are constantly developing new ideas to give the ceramics in Siegburg even more importance - so we decided to plan a two-day ceramic market. And after many talks with the weekly market launchers, who are always on the market Mondays - Saturdays, we were able to realize the ideas and plans and are really looking forward to the exciting new tasks and conversations with you – the ceramists.

The next year, therefore, we want to welcome seventy professional ceramists on the market square on Saturdays and Sundays from 10.30 am to 6 pm. Only qualified ceramists such as ceramic masters, designers, graduate ceramists, university graduates, professionally working workshops and artistic studios can apply. Resellers and hobby ceramists are expressly not allowed. The ceramic market participants are determined by a jury.

The pitches are still fixed in advance and we guarantee that there will be no parallel events on these two days except for the Holzgassenfest (only on Sundays!). The booths can already be set up on Friday afternoon - the monitoring of the booths is taken through by a committed specialist at night. In alternation with the Siegburg Ceramics Prize, a temporary exhibition of artistic ceramics will be shown in the temporary exhibition of the City Museum. This cycle will be continued in 2018 with the exhibition "Rheinische Keramik - contemporary". Contemporary workshops and workshops, which are rich in artistic ceramics and are based in the historical area of "Rheinische Keramik" show works on the subject of "the autonomous vessel, ceramic sculpture and installation". We would like to invite you to the exhibition opening on July 6th.

So a whole weekend in the ceramics - exhibition opening on Friday evening and a dinner of the ceramists in the city museum on Saturday evening as well as a breakfast (in good weather) in the open air on the Siegburg market square for all ceramists are planned.

In 2018, unfortunately, an increased booth rent is required - 50 euros per meter - resulting from the increased expenditure due to the temporal expansion of the ceramic market (including security service). In addition, during the event (dinner including beverages on Saturday in the museum and the breakfast on Sunday for one person inclusive - each further person pays 10 € for the dinner) it is cared for some foods and drinks.

However, the stand fees are also used exclusively for marketing measures: Advertisements in ceramic journals, an interactive stand layout for the Siegburg pottery market, as well as advertising through flyers and posters are retained. We will keep you informed about the events, the museums, the radio and the tourist information. We are now advertising on www.siegburg.de for the Siegburg pottery market - a separate domain will be online this year.

All municipal mailings will be marked with a special stamp advertising for the ceramic market. We also stock social media such as Facebook and Twitter to reach more target groups. Poster advertising within the city and on the access roads is also extended and further advertisements (in specialist magazines) have already been commissioned. A preview of the Siegburg pottery market at the ICE train station in Siegburg / Bonn will be shown from the middle of June 2018.

There is a specially locked car park for the ceramists near the market square as well as overnight accommodation (for cars, tents and / or mobile homes) with sanitary facilities.

The application documents can be sent by e-mail to keramik@siegburg.de or by post, using the attached form as well as a certificate of education, an artistic career (for example, training, exhibitions, etc.) and four photographs of your work and your booth. The registration form can be downloaded from the Internet. Applications received after the application deadline can unfortunately no longer be considered. If you have any questions, please contact keramik@siegburg.de or phone 02241-1027533. We are looking forward to lots of applications!

Many kind regards from Siegburg Your Siegburg ceramics team - including Ines and Christoph
